COMMENTARY

- Global equities (-3.2%) fell for the first time in six months, weighed down by benchmark-heavy tech stocks—a wave of IPOs, M&A and stock splits typically evident of excessive liquidity characterised the month
- US equities (-3.8%) declined on disappointing macroeconomic data and expiring stimulus measures—America’s unemployment rate is still high at 8.4%, with retail sales growth slowing dramatically in August
- The US dollar strengthened against most majors, weighing on emerging markets and commodities—gold (-4.1%) retraced some of its recent gains and oil (-9.6%) tumbled after Saudi Arabia cut prices for major customers
- Emerging markets (-1.6%) displayed mixed performance—commodity consumers such as India (+0.6%) (also on rumours of more stimulus) faring better than commodity producers such as Brazil (-7.1%) and Russia (-7.4%)
- On the geopolitical front, tensions between the US and China (-2.7%) remain elevated—the Pentagon said it would extend export restrictions to China’s biggest semiconductor manufacturer SMIC
- All sectors fell—energy (-12.1%), financials (-5.3%) and communication services (-5.1%) performed worst
- The fund performed in line with its benchmark—its non-tech Chinese investments mostly added value, while core holdings Alphabet (-10.1%) and Wheaton Precious Metals (-8.1%) weighed on performance
- The managers raised cash and added to portfolio hedges ahead of the volatility—market valuation levels remain stretched given the prevailing macroeconomic environment
- The rand (+1.1% vs the US dollar) gained materially against the dollar but lost ground latterly—on risk off sentiment as fears of renewed European COVID-19 lockdowns mounted

ABOUT THE TARGET FUND

The target fund of the Foord Global Equity Feeder Fund is the Foord Global Equity Fund (FGEF), a unit trust fund domiciled in the city state of Singapore and registered with the Monetary Authority of Singapore. FGEF is approved for distribution in South Africa in terms of section 65 of the Collective Investment Schemes Control Act.

Foord’s track record of successful investing in global markets dates back to the inception of the Foord International Fund (FIF) in 1997. FIF is a conservatively managed, multi-asset class, absolute-return portfolio targeting 10% per annum in US dollars over time. FIF invests predominantly in developed market securities. In contrast, FGEF invests only in listed equities with a residual exposure to money market securities. Given its very different investment objective, FGEF has a greater exposure to emerging market securities. Investors assessing the two portfolios should be aware that FGEF’s return profile will likely exhibit significantly more volatility over shorter periods. We both expect and welcome this volatility as an opportunity to invest in great companies at excellent prices.

FGEF is managed by three experienced portfolio managers using Foord’s multiple counsellor process. The fund managers are Foord Singapore’s Chief Investment Officer, Dave Foord, Brian Arcese and Ishreth Hassen. The three portfolio managers and four dedicated global equity analysts based in Singapore.

As its name suggests, FGEF is a global fund. The investment team can thus research all geographies for companies that offer prospects for sustainable earnings growth and portfolio diversification. It is common cause that diversification can reduce risk. The Foord approach has always emphasised the importance of balance in the portfolio, while never “betting the farm” on a particular company, sector or theme. It also stresses the need to actively manage the risk that the team is wrong in its headline views.

The portfolio includes both large and medium capitalisation companies in developed and emerging markets that the managers expect will rerate significantly over the medium term. Warren Buffet said that “the stock market serves as a relocation centre at which money is moved from the active to the patient.” Stock selection is paramount. With much of the market focused on the very short term, we believe that investors focusing on earnings growth three- to five-years out will ultimately be rewarded most handsomely.

FGEF is available for direct investment by South African investors with lump sums of US$10,000 or more. More information is available on www.foord.com.

UNIT PRICE

Unit trust prices are calculated on a net asset value basis, which is the total value of all assets in the portfolio including any income accruals and less any permissible deductions from the portfolio. Forward pricing is used. Prices are determined at 15h00 each business day and are published daily on www.foord.co.za and in national newspapers. The cut-off time for instruction is 14h00 each business day.

TER

A Total Expense Ratio (TER) is a measure of a portfolio’s annual expenses, fees and charges, expressed as a percentage of the average daily value of the portfolio. These expenses include the annual fee, VAT, audit fees, bank charges and costs (excluding trading costs) incurred in any underlying funds. Included in the TER, but separately disclosed, is a performance fee (or credit) resulting from overperformance (or underperformance) against the benchmark. A higher TER ratio does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. The current TER cannot be regarded as an indication of future TERs. Performance return information and prices are always stated net of the expenses, fees and charges included in the TER. The TER for the fund’s financial year ended 29 February 2020 was 1.58%.

FOREIGN INVESTMENT RISK

The portfolio may include underlying foreign investments. Fluctuations or movements in exchange rates may cause the value of underlying foreign investments to go up or down. The underlying foreign investments may be adversely affected by political instability as well as exchange controls, changes in taxation, foreign investment policies, restrictions on repatriation of investments and other restrictions and controls that may be imposed by the relevant authorities in the relevant countries.
